

Verity Robins

2007 Australian Champion of Public Speaking and previously 2004 Australian Champion of Public Speaking, Verity knows the tools of the trade. With so many people preferring death to public speaking... she is in high demand!

Verity is a qualified success coach and has prestigious NLP 'trainer' qualifications; however her primary focus is on executive speech coaching, working one on one with executives and managers. She offers all of these services as the director of Argent Star – www.argentstar.com.au.

Becoming known as "one of Australia's corporate speaking experts", Verity is consistently achieving outstanding results with her corporate clients. Clients that were too nervous to speak are finding empowerment and confidence – chairing meetings, voicing opinions and delivering prepared speeches. Seasoned speakers are being challenged and trained in new speaking tools, such as - stage anchoring, embedded language and looping.

Verity's eleven years of experience allow her to clearly and comfortably share her skills with her clients, leaving them feeling in control, confident and at ease.

As a success coach Verity delights in her clients achievements. Helping corporate individuals achieve outstanding goals, realise business targets and surpass their colleague's expectations.

Verity is fascinated by how people communicate and 'why they do what they do'. She is a qualified practitioner, master practitioner and trainer in Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP). She studied and trained in the UK and Wales and has delivered NLP training courses to hundreds of corporate and private clients in Australia.

Verity Robins is a gifted and acclaimed professional speaker. She is the 2007 and 2004 Australian Champion of Public Speaking and has spoken to audiences around the world and competed at International levels.

Dynamic, engaging and captivating, Verity tailors every speech to her specific audience, taking them on a powerful journey. Passionate and fiery, funny and natural, Verity will draw you in, make you laugh and empower you with knowledge, skill and the desire to act.

Verity shares her insights and expertise through keynote presentations and individual private speaking sessions with multinational companies, CEO's and colleagues. She draws on her years of experience in business, speaking and training to present her audiences with up to date essential skills and tools.

Verity was destined to be a professional speaker, it is who she is. Her natural ability shines through and puts her clients and audience at ease enabling them to reach their highest potential.

"Having a couple of big presentations to make I decided to get some speech coaching. Verity was recommended to me by an acquaintance.

After half a dozen lessons I sailed through the presentations with every confidence. I went from a nervous, dithering presenter to a confident performer who enjoyed the experience. I was told on the night I was very engaging and my presentation was the best of the three given.

Thanks Verity, you are a legend and I'd recommend you to anyone."

Martin O'Connor, Managing Director, Coordimax

"Thank you so much for your presentation at our Businesswomen's Breakfast at the Grand Hyatt this morning. Feedback has been extremely positive, you not only provided information that appealed to all criteria but you delivered this with passion, expertise and humour and provided valuable information that guests could immediately apply to their lives and those of their staff and family. It was an absolute pleasure to deal with you – you are both organised and committed to the project. Professional, friendly and a delight to work with – thank you."

Kim McGuinness Managing Director Centrum Events

"I am more comfortable within myself, positive and clear about what I have to offer to others and myself. Verity you (and the executive coaching) helped me to change my life for the better. I feel as though I can do anything." Kylie, Contracts Advisor (Lawyer)
